Zero

Alter Bridge

Now there is a light in the dark, some will say
There is a grace up high
There is a beauty that some can behold
Not I, not I
There is a power that's felt from the shore
There is a force that won't break
But all of these things to me are no more
I've changed, I've changed
What in the hell have you done?
Cast aside all that you love
Sorrows you never out run
Zero
Nothing for you's ever good enough
Zero
Nothing makes you whole
How many times have you felt all alone?
How many tears have you cried?
Called out in vain for a God to behold
Inside, inside
How many fires you let die in your heart?
How many storms must you face?
Left out to fight for yourself in the cold
No faith, no faith
So nothing to lean on this time
Nothing is left to decide
All that you've known you deny
Zero
Nothing for you's ever good enough
Zero
Nothing makes you whole
Zero
Nothing for you's ever good enough
Zero
Nothing makes you whole
Go now, surrender
You can't take no more
And just cry out
Surrender, your faith is no more
What in the hell have you done?

Cast aside all that you love
Sorrows you never out run
Just look what you have become
Zero
Nothing for you's ever good enough
Zero
Nothing makes you whole
Zero
Nothing for you's ever good enough
Zero
Nothing makes you whole
