The Wild Life

Vacationer

I'm tired of just talking
I want to get a move underway
I'm putting my thought in
I want to give all my worries away
Because they're still in my pocket
I want to empty my calendar days
Let the feeling just spark it
Starting to change
Being less guarded
And act like I've got it
I'm putting my heart in
Just to give it away
We're trying our hardest
Yeah, we're trying our hardest
Where would it go
No points to making plans
The wild life is human nature
We've got to take our chance
Try our best to keep it working
No points to making plans
The wild life is human nature
We've got to take our chance
Try our best to keep it working
I'm tired of just talking
I want to get a move underway
I'm putting my thought in
And sending my worries out
And I lock it
And act like I've got it
I'm putting my heart in
Just to give it away
We're trying our hardest
Yeah, we're trying our hardest
Where would it go
No points to making plans
The wild life is human nature
We've got to take our chance
Try our best to keep it working
No points to making plans

The wild life is human nature
We've got to take our chance
Try our best to keep it working
No points to making plans
The wild life is human nature
We've got to take our chance
Try our best to keep it working
No points to making plans
The wild life is human nature
We've got to take our chance
Try our best to keep it working
