

Start Tomorrow

Shoshana Bean

Old habits die hard
It's sad but it's true
And mine always seem to find a way of leading back to you
I guess I figure the damage is done
So I got nothin'™ left to lose
I could spin it 1000 ways
But I'd still end up the fool

I was never any good at telling you no
And you always seem to weaken my self-control
And it doesn't make it right
What we get away with in the absence of light
But I bargain with myself until I get my way yea

Oh I tell myself I™ll start tomorrow x
No I swore that I wouldn™t go back
But it ain™t somewhere I™ve never been before
So I tell myself I™ll start tomorrow
â€~Cause the devil you know is better than one you don™t
And I hope that with the sun will come the strength to move on
So I swear I™ll start tomorrow

I hear the sound of you calling me
Before the phone even rings
And before you walk away I already feel the sting
Do I keep coming back â€~cause you are meant for me
Or â€~cause I got nowhere else to be Repetitive choices defining my insanity

All the hurtful things that I had planned to say, yea
And the clever tactics I'd use to push you away
They dissolve into the phone â€~cause I don't wanna be alone
So I justify just one more night in my predictable way yea

Oh I tell myself I™ll start tomorrow (starting tomorrow)
No I swore that I wouldn™t go back
But it ain™t somewhere I™ve never been before
So I tell myself I™ll start tomorrow
â€~Cause the devil you know is better than one you don™t
And I hope that with the sun will come the strength to move on

So I swear Iâ€™ll start tomorrow

Until one more day becomes a dozen more
And youâ€™re staring back at years laid out in pictures on the floor
Both sides bruised from always turning the other cheek
Iâ€™m staying in the fire so my pen wonâ€™t run out of ink

Oh I tell myself Iâ€™ll start tomorrow (starting tomorrow)
No I swore that I wouldnâ€™t go back
But it ainâ€™t somewhere Iâ€™ve never been before
So I tell myself Iâ€™ll start tomorrow
â€™Cause the devil you know is better than one you donâ€™t
And I hope that with the sun will come the strength to move on

So I tell myself Iâ€™ll start tomorrow (starting tomorrow)
No I swore that I wouldnâ€™t go back
But it ainâ€™t somewhere Iâ€™ve never been before
So I tell myself Iâ€™ll start tomorrow
â€™Cause the devil you know is better than one you donâ€™t
And I hope that with the sun will come the strength to move on
So I swear Iâ€™ll start tomorrow
