Tell Me Everything

Collapsis

We always said that we would listen
And never hide what's on our minds
But tonight, it feels like something's missing
Is there a ghost that hides in the world behind your eyes?
What's raging in you tonight?
It's hard to tell
When you're out of reach
And I can't help you till you tell me everything
It's only words
And words don't bleed
They can't help you if you hold them in so
Tell me everything
If the moon fell from your sky
Would I be the last to know?
When your hopes and fears collide
Let me swim inside the ocean in your eyes
You can drown our thoughts in me tonight
It's hard to tell
When you're out of reach
And I can't help you till you tell me everything
It's only words
And words don't bleed
They can't help you if you hold them in so
Tell me everything
So put your trust in me somehow
Let your walls come down
You can't breathe
You can't see
It's only me
When you're out of reach
And I can't help you till you tell me everything
It's only words
And words don't bleed
They can't help you if you hold them in so
Tell me everything
