I Will Return to You

K's Choice

Today, there's nothing more to say But someday I'll return to you Today, things didn't go our way Maybe tomorrow, I will return to youToday, I'd like to slip away from all this pain Someday, I'll return to you Today, I'd like to be a cell inside your vein Maybe tomorrow, I will return to youOnce more, I'd like to put a spider in your bed For that, I will return to you I want you to hear the things, I never said For that, I will return to you, someday, I'll return to youDry the rain inside my head To hear the things, I never said I will return to youTo be a light beam through a cloud To laugh at things I'm singing now I will, I will return to you I will return to you, to youI will return to you Someday, I'll return to you I will return to you Maybe tomorrow, I will return to you
