Let God Lead

Jon Batiste & Stay Human

We begin to succeed
when the cares of our lives begin and end with the hurt of othersWe begin to breather when the wounds of others become relieved with the love of othersHe who looks around and finds who's in need has made the best investment as a human beingHe who looks around to find who's in need has made the best investment in his legacyI say that love will never force, love will never quit, love ain't never lose love ain't never missOf all things lasted here remains only three what money can't buy only these will succeed faith how and love, but the greatest of these is love so here is a formula for a real hard situation, just let God and let love lead the way
Let love lead
Let God lead
Can love struck (no way) can love destroy (no way can love belittle (no way no) can love pose can love be proud can love rejoice with a mother's pride love stands up when other's won't love prevails without want love puts up with anything God is love and love is God
