Vanity

Highly Suspect

Can't you figure it out?
Or do I have to write it down
For you?
I know what you're about
I'm not afraid to shut it down
Over and over and over and over againYour vanity's so cold
(Your vanity's so cold)
Your vanity's so cold in my
Heart, so, please, let go
Your vanity's so cold
(Your vanity's so cold)I guess anything goes
When you're waiting for the one that you love
It's not ready
Hey, man, wouldn't you know
That the woman should be waiting for love
(My body should be waiting for love)
Over and over and over and over againYour vanity's so cold
(Your vanity's so cold)
Your vanity's so cold in my
Heart, so, please, let go
Your vanity's so cold
(Your vanity's so cold)And I have searched my soul, yeah
For you, today
But this feeling is getting old
It won't go away
I'm lost without you here
My love, it lays
Under the cornerstone
That the builder threw awayI searched my soul
But nothing ever came out
This feeling is getting old
Right back into the cold now
Right back into the cold, yeah
It's all I've ever known
All I've ever known, yeahAnd I have searched my soul, yeah
For you, it's true
But nothing ever comes out right
And I swear I'm headed back to the other side
I can't sit around and watch us both die

Oh, no, I cannot watch us both die
Oh no, not I
You know I've got to tryI need you here
I've tried and I'll try again
You are my friend
This is not the end
