Closer

Screaming Trees

Histories are held within your heart, so let it go
Open all the doors around your eyes and let us know
Certain keys are held within your hand, so let it showBring us closer to the flame, bring us closer to the fire
Where's the spark within your eye? Where's the spark?Thunder in your ears until you can't hear this at all
Rivers flowing tears until your destinies dissolve
Drifting through the years until a voice receives your callBring us closer to the fire, bring us closer to the flame
The end and beginning are the same, it's all the sameMysteries are kept within your heart, so let it show
Open all the doors around your eyes and let us know
Certain keys were held until they must have let you goBring us closer to the flame, bring us closer to the fire
This world can't take us any higher
