Virtue

Rip the pages from the book of lies
Never will we ever fall to compromise
Now we're back to set the record straight
Fueled by anger, our pain has turned to hateSymptoms of stagnation are coming to an end
Solitude's frustration has been our only friend
Now we must break freeMercy is no virtue when the mercyful is betrayed
There must be some kind of justice before it's too lateRight at you straight between the eyes
This relentless attack will be no disguise
Things have been said that just are not true
Hear what I say when I say this to youSymptoms of stagnation are coming to an end
Solitude's frustration has been our only friend
Now we must break freeMercy is no virtue, that's what the merciless say
When justice is lost, the system fails, and all we do is payTake a look around, 'cause the band is back in town
And vengeance and revenge is what they seek
If you see them coming you better step aside
Because now they'll show no mercy
You can see it in their eyesBecause mercy is no virtue
