Underneath The Same Moon

Blake Shelton

Shadows of the night moving on the ground
Like silent clouds, they follow me around
As I wander the dark through the midnight mist
Remembering our last kiss, do you know
How much you're missed?Tonight I stand in this lonely place
I search the heavens for some saving grace
And I cry, dying without you
I know you're somewhere looking up there tooRight now that's all two distant hearts can do, oh ooh
At least we're underneath underneath the same moonPicturing your face, flowers in your hair
Like you always wear, oh I can see you there
Longing to be touched but you're out of reach
Oh, hold on please, won't you wait for me?Tonight I stand in this lonely place
I search the heavens for some saving grace
And I cry, dying without you
I know you're somewhere looking up there tooRight now that's all two distant hearts can do, oh ooh
At least we're underneath underneath the same moon
La la la la la la la la, oh ooh
At least we're underneath underneath the same moonShadows of the night moving all around
Moving on the ground, they follow me around
