Missing You

The Beloved

I found myself this morning
But I didn't like the way that I was feeling
It's like I'm in a film
But I spend most of my time looking at the ceilingAnd I can't get over yesterday
How the trouble started, I was thinking
Well, I wouldn't have gone overboard
If someone would have told me, I'd start sinkingYou came into my life
Took my heart and then you went away
Now I'm missing you already
I wish it was tomorrow, yesterdayAnd I'm missing you
Missing you
Missing you
Yeah, I'm missing youSome people find their trouble is in letting go
But you and I are different
It's hard to turn an argument
Into some kind of international incidentBut you've told me twenty times before
You'd leave me
But I chose to play ignorantSo you took my life apart
Now it feels my world has gone astray
And I'm missing you already
I wish it was tomorrow, yesterdayAnd I'm missing you
Missing you
Missing you
Girl, I'm missing youYou came into my life took my heart and then you went away
Thought that you would make your point
And then you'd come right back to me todayBut suddenly it's dawned on me
On my own is how I'm gonna stay
And I'm missing you already
I wish it was tomorrow yesterdayAnd I'm missing you
Missing you
I'm missing you
Missing youYeah, I'm missing you
Missing you
Yeah, I'm missing you
Missing youDon't you know I'm missing you?
Missing you
Yeah, I'm missing you
Missing youOh, girl, don't you know I'm missing you?
Missing you
