God Knows

The Sleepy Jackson

Time's ticking, you should just get up on the side
And cheer along like
My mind's been tainted by your cunning smile
And your bright side down lowAnd God knows if you're ever going to show
They know that it's dark and there's no light
There's no lightAll I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you thereIn the waking of a ruined mess
With streets depressed light
Your dimes in prison lost the girl you kissed
And the wells missed at homeAnd God knows if you're ever going to show
They know that it's dark and there's no light
There's no lightAnd God knows if you're ever going to show
They know that it's dark and there's no light
There's no lightAll I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you thereAll I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you there
Into the light, into the lightAll I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you there
All I want is to lead you there
