March

Zao

My strength, my strength fadesMy strength fades away
Slowly with the setting sun
The night brought
Its darkness and its stormsAnd the floods that came
Reflected a dull moon
Violent winds raged
Beneath the stars that didn't shineEmptied
Of myself
I fell

To the groundSlowly through the destructionCame a single quiet Voice

And the breath of His words

ConsumedThe night and brought strength I have never

Felt on my ownAnd He held me up

Until I could walk again

And promised

To stay by my side forever
