Sisterwind

P C III

I remember when the winds came
They pushed us to the ground
Hello Sisterwind
High, the ground
Burning red inside, A burning heart

Hello, Sisterwind
High is my heart
You know I'll never stop

I was salvaging my dream seen
From a sea of broken hearts
But the wind was throwing rain!
High, and my heart

I wrote you ??? song
Echoed through the trees
And they leave nothing that you hear, high
And be careful what you see, the truth will set you free
When the mind is numbing, you lose your self-control
And the world is waiting, to tear apart your soul to tear apart your soul

Hello sister wind
High, keep my eyes as to the ground
Hello sister wind
High, keep my eyes as to the ground
Hello sister wind
