

Voyage of Bran

Brendan Perry

Father, Father
Can you tell me
Where the hours go
Where time flows ?It is written in the stars
Upon the milky way
We must burn bright
Before we fade awayMother, Mother
Can you tell me
Where the fire goes
When the flames cease ?From the ashes, to the astral plain
Where the setting sun meets the sea
BrendanI live by the river
Where the old Gods still dream
Of inner communion
With the open seaThrough the eye of the hunter
In search of a prey
Neither beast nor human
In my philosophyIf you don't recognise me
Well it's simply because
I've outgrown these old clothes
Time to move onFor you and I will outlive
The masks life gave us
When this shadowplay comes
To a close
