Strong Enough

Tal Bachman

And if you could, you'd climb atop

The Eiffel Tower now, wouldn't you?

You'd stare at the sun, or lay yourself

Down six feet under, wouldn't you?You would, wouldn't you?And if you could, you'd tie me up

And make me yours now, wouldn't you?

Oh wouldn't you? Are you strong enough to love me?

Are you lost in love or crazy?

Are you strong enough

Strong enough to love me? And if you could, you'd walk through fire

On tightrope wire now, wouldn't you?

You'd fly up across the sky

Just to prove your point now, wouldn't you?

Yeah, yeah, wouldn't you? Are you strong enough to love me?

Are you lost in love or crazy?

Are you wrong enough

Strong enough to love me?

Yea yeaYou'd take me in hand

Higher and higher, overland

But I'd slip through the cracks

And higher and higher take you backAre you strong enough, strong enough to love me?

And if you could, you'd tie me up

And make me yours now, wouldn't you?

Now, wouldn't you?You'd tie me up

Are you strong enough to love me?

Are you lost in love or crazy? yea yeaAre you wrong enough, strong enough to love me?

Are you strong enough to love me?
