

Everyday

Reset

Everyday unconsciously we throw away what could be saved our natural resources are getting wasted everyday the incompatibility of the world we live in and the way we live can't you see there's no place to go we're surrounded by people but (feels like we're) fighting all alone everyday they cut our trees pollute our seas everytime there's another stupid reason why one hundred thousand dollar fees for the oil patches in our seas that's nothing to the billionaires who own the companies time is running out we have to save the species stop the death of these
can't you see there's no place to go
