Ghosts In My Machine

Annie Lennox

Oh, come and take this pain away
Oh, come and take this pain away
Oh, come and set my spirit free, yeah
I've seen too much, I know too much
I hurt too much, I feel too much
I dread too much, I dream too much
I'm caught up by the ghosts in my machine
I'm bruised and battered by the storm
Can't find a place to keep me warm
My mind is broken and forlorn, yeah
I think too much, I do too much
I fall too much, I fail too much
I cry too much, I die too much
I'm haunted by the ghosts in my machine
Give me some of that medicine
To make me forget
(I can't find it)
I need something easier
(I can't find it)

'Cause I ain't found it yet
(I can't find it)
I ain't found it yet
(I can't find it)
Ooh, I ain't found it
Oh, no, no, no
Oh, womankind was born of pain
My soul keeps hurting just the same
Oh, come and take this pain away
I give too much, get used too much
I lose too much, get bruised too much
I bleed too much, I need too much
I'm sleeping with the ghosts in my machine
I still want you, baby
I guess I'll always do
I still love you baby
I guess I'll always do
