Recover

Eli Young Band

The heartache hurts and you can't move on
Blue skies fade to a gray sky dawn
Tryin' to find a place in this town
That you don't feel 6 feet under ground
You're so tired, you're so scared
Defeated by the troubles you can't repair
When this world comes crashing
You don't have to rip away
You don't have to give up, no
Let the angels play a sad song
To carry you home
It won't be long you'll discover
You'll recover, yeah you'll recover
Those darks clouds can't hold much rain
After it falls, they're gonna blow away
Take those sad eyes, dry those tears
Baby I'm right here yeah I'm right here

When this world comes crashing
You don't have to rip away
Don't have to give up, no
Let the angels play a sad song
To carry you home
Yeah it won't be long you'll discover
You'll recover, yeah you'll recover
When this world comes crashing
You don't have to rip away
Don't have to give up, no
Let the angels play
When this world comes crashing
You don't have to rip away
Don't have to give up, no
Let the angels play a sad song
To carry you home
Yeah it won't be long you'll discover
You'll recover, yeah you'll recover
Yeah you'll recover
Yeah you'll recover
