I Shall See God

Roby Duke

(lyrics vary slightly depending on the recording, but this is the essence)

Itâ€™s almost as if someone is standing there
And I donâ€™t know what Iâ€™d give to see the face that seems to stare
All my life I give to know His ways
But just how much I know, Iâ€™m no fool, I dare not say
As I go in the way of all the earth
As I step through the door
There where time is no more
I shall see God

Older, much older now, I still believe
That when all else is gone
Rock of Ages cleft for me
Holding something I canâ€™t feel or see
Iâ€™ll tarry â€˜til the day I hear the music of the free
As I go in the way of all the earth
As I step through the door
There where time is no more
I shall seeâ€¦
Perfect peace, perfect love
Finally Iâ€™ll face the beginning as I go
As I go in the way of the earth
As I step through the door
There where time is no more
I shall see God

I shall see Him, touch His face
I shall see Him, touch His face
