

Look to the Hills

Ruff Endz

im sitting here crying in the dark im trying to mend the wounds of my broken heart its hard to believe that your really gone its hard to really accept it and move on theres times i feel all hope is gone im wanting embrace from your loving arms but i must try and start all over again and know that within myself i have strength

[chorus:]

look to the hills, look to the mountains from you in the storm, you can find strength i know the hurt and pain that you cry and no matter what goes on the sun will shine theres a lot of things i wanted to tell you a lot of more getting to know you but through god i believe i can talk to you and tell you that im always missing you sometimes i get so lonely and it seems like it wont even pour when hurt and pain is all you feel inside you go to look to the hills and say i will survive

[chorus]
