

There's a Last Time for Everything

Division of Laura Lee

Lust, obsession and patience
That is all there is, and your nasty hiss
Trust is no longer lasting when I'm gone, you move on 'Cause there's a last time for everything
Yeah, there's a last time for everything Power money and broken dreams
That is all you've seen, all fantasies fading
'Cause your vision's mean, but please dig in 'Cause there's a last time for everything
Yeah, there's a last time for everything Footprints in the window
From someone who's my friend
That will be my doorway when I'm back again There's a last time for everything
There's a last time for everything
Yeah, there's a last time for everything Footprints in the window
From someone who's my friend
That will be my doorway when I'm back again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>