The Small Hotel

Sally Seltmann

I'm not running from my shadow, anymore
I surrender bow and arrows, close the door and Sit right down,I wanna tell you about it all
About the hotel where
We rose and fell
Where a heaven followed hellIn the rooftop garden
Where I fall apart
When you look at me
And we say sweetheart
We're gonna make it to the other side
We're gonna make it to the other sideCause we're not running from our shadows, anymore
We surrender bow and arrows, close the door
Sit right down, I wanna tell you about it all
About the hotel where
we rose and fell
Where heaven followed on from hellIn the rooftop garden...We're gonna make it to the other side (repeat)
