

Business

Treble Charger

There's better ways to let me know
Leave a message, slip a note
In a place I'll never find Should be careful of what you say
Could all catch up to you someday
Ignore it twice, you know, it won't go away But every time I listen
I get your words stuck in my head And I know it's not my business
Do I mean anything at all?
'Cause I've been waiting for so long Someone tell me what went wrong
Am I still getting dragged along?
I've got the scars to prove it You say you're happy and content
But every fight's the main event
And now I'm in the corner spitting blood and spent But every time I listen
I get your words stuck in my head
And I don't think I see things
Quite the same as you would want me to
'Cause I can't be that cruel
