

Howling At the Moon

Donna Burke

If I had the freedom
My kind at the night
I'd be walking by your side
I'd be the faithful hound you need
I'd simply follow where you lead
But I just scoundrel, howling at the moon

If I had the greeting to go with my desires
I'd be sleeping by your fire
I'd be your comfort and your guard
No longer piling in the yard
But I just remaungrow howling at the moon

I've been an hunter for too long
I'm really up the chase
And the moon's been caughting up the giving place
I'd be your companion, the years go rushing by
If you listen to my cry
And if this dark could have a day
She'd never fail, she'd never strain
But I'm just down and down Howling at the moon
But I'm just down and down Howling at the moon
