

Shattered (Remastered)

Delain

Engaged in a memory
Engaged in a prison of guilt
Surrounded by reproach
And everybody knows[Chorus:]
She flies over town in white shades
But you're left behind
With a thousand troubled minds
You cannot speak; you're blinded by your grief
She flies over town in white shades
And guides every step
But still you feel alone
Cause angels don't come homeAs the sky is clearing
You clear your mind
Hide all mirrors not to see
What the morphine couldn't hideShattered faces on the floor
Your broken mask serves you no more[Chorus:]
She flies over town in white shades
But you're left behind
With a thousand troubled minds
You cannot speak; you're blinded by your grief
She flies over town in white shades
And guides every step
But still you feel alone
Cause angels don't come home[Chorus:]
She flies over town in white shades
But you're left behind
With a thousand troubled minds
You cannot speak; you're blinded by your grief
She flies over town in white shades
And guides every step
But still you feel alone
Cause angels don't come home
