

Broken Heart Tango

Cloetta Paris

Searching to find.
This place in my mind.
I try not to think but my thoughts are all there.
I wish I could stay in the night far away.
You opened my eyes to what there was to find.

Oh, You blew my mind.
How can something so pale just suddenly shine?
Don't say you love me for a start.
Or you will be a boy with a broken heart.
Stop.
I want to dance.
And I might be up for a little romance.
I offer you a tango in the dark.
You're looking at a girl with a broken heart.

I look at the sky.
Avoiding your eyes.
I don't want to feel what I cannot control.
I think of the days, remember your face.
You opened my eyes to what there was to find.

Oh, You blew my mind.
How can something so pale just suddenly shine?
Don't say you love me for a start.
Or you will be a boy with a broken heart.
Stop.
I want to dance.
And I might be up for a little romance.
I offer you a tango in the dark.
You're looking at a girl with a broken heart.

My dearest friend.
It was almost a year ago.
But to me it feels like, like yesterday.
I love every word you wrote to me.
Every bit of it reminds me of the days in the sun
and the nights in the streets.
And those perfect, perfect afternoons with you.

Oh, You blew my mind.
How can something so pale just suddenly shine?
Don't say you love me for a start.
Or you will be a boy with a broken heart.
Stop.
I want to dance.
And I might be up for a little romance.
I offer you a tango in the dark.
You're looking at a girl with a broken heart.
You're looking at a girl with a broken heart.
You're looking at a girl with a broken heart.
