

Born Ready

Tiny Flowers

Well I found you in a state of self destruction
As you cried about your latest casualty
How it left you feeling empty
Like the way you'll always be
With black mascara streaming down your cheek
Girl, life's so cheap but pretty
But I was born ready
I was born ready
So ready
For you
So I found a way to resurrect you
Now you're back to running in the streets
And they'll tell you that they love you
When they don't know what means
With a face like yours, they'll tell you anything like
I was born ready
I was born ready
So ready
For you
You're such a magnet for that classic tragedy
You've always owned it
But now it sleeps here with me
When you're saying that you're not ready
So I'm thinking
Aw that's so heavy (aw yeah)
Do-do-do-do-do
I was born ready
Do-do-do-do-do
Oh but you're not
Do-do-do-do-do
I was born ready
Do-do-do-do-do
I was born ready
Yeah, I was born
I was born ready
