Right Place, Wrong Time

Avant

Every time I see your face
Every time I look in your eyes
(Makes me remember, I still remember)Takin' that flight out West
Just down in LAX
(It was December, the end of winter)Stopped at the shoppin' malls
Just for you I had to ball
Givin' you everything
You showed me things
That I never knew and I thank youOkay, okay, lemme clear my mind
(Lotta things goin' on in my head)
You know the truth, you can never be mine
(Still trip off of all the things that you said)That you loved me and you need me
I still believe it but I must be crazy
God knows that I don't know what I should do
But all that I can sayRight place, wrong time
I'm sittin' here stuck in the middle
Of a masquerade with you
You can't be mine
I'll have to chuck it up but it'll hurt me so muchI really want you
Hey, God knows that I don't know what I should do
Tell me what should I do?
'Cuz I'm still in love with youTravelin' from here to there, only so much I can bare
(I wanna see you but I can't see you)
Knowin' this from the start, didn't really wanna break no hearts
(But my emotions are still takin' me over)Knowing you used to call, constantly my phone was off
And I knew this day would come
You would go and find somebody new
But I'm still in love with youRight place, wrong time
I'm sittin' here, stuck in the middle
Of a masquerade with you
You can't be mine
I'll have to chuck it up but it'll hurt me so muchCan somebody help me?
Hey, God knows that I don't know what I should do
'Cuz I'm still in love with youI loved the things that we did together, places we went together
Girl, I was down whatever
When I had time off, we could get that all
But you know I been workin' for certain and I know that hurt youSomeone else is fillin' my shoes but I'm not mad at you
'Cuz I wasn't there, now he's takin' my place

Fillin' my space, leavin' me with nothin' else to sayRight place, wrong time
I'm sittin' here, stuck in the middle
Of a masquerade with you
You can't be mine
I'll have to chuck it up but it'll hurt me so muchYou know I can't live without you, girl
Please don't leave me, right now I need you in my life
Oh, oh, say, say, oh, oh, say, say oh, oh
