Paper and Concrete

Canines

In the dark of night
When the last drop of blind youth
Has left youYou will wake to find
That you have been lied to
You're nothing moreThan cells, same as the ones that surround youAnd the will to make
And build what there isn't
Before youNow will break
This paper and concrete
Are nothing newJust earth moved and glued, stuck to youI warned you
There's no use
Trying to win
