Let Me Down Gently

The Ark

Come and lie beside me now, my love
Come, I've always been too shy in love
My voice is narrow
And a boy ain't supposed to cry
Until tomorrow:Let me down gently (let me down, let me down)
Let me down gently (let me down, let me down)
Let me down gently (let me down, let me down)
I'm too young, too afraid of heights to make the jump and flyKnowing you will always be a trial
Knowing that you only stay a while
My deepest horror
And I know I ain't supposed to cry
I'm safe from sorrowLet me down gently (let me down, let me down)
Let me down gently (let me down, let me down)
Let me down gently (let me down, let me down)
I'm too young, too afraid of heights to make the jump and flyLet me down gently (let me down, let me down)
Let me down gently (let me down, let me down)
Let me down gently (let me down, let me down)
I'm too young, too afraid of heights to make the jump and flyOooooo...
