

Seeing Through You

Blue Merle

Today I walked across the great divide
And left you standing on the other side
The things I loved in you were gone
I'm seeing through you Monday night and here I am all alone
Nothing you could say to me would break my bones
Your time has come and gone and vanished in the air
I'm seeing through you I'm seeing through you, I'm seeing through you
I'm seeing through you and you are not the same
It hurts my eyes to see the change
I'm seeing through you, I'm seeing through you Today I walked across the great divide
And left you standing on the other side
Your time has come and gone and vanished in the air
I'm seeing through you
