

Turning Blue

The Swallows

You call me up
When you're done with him
But you tell me that's just dumb I don't need much to get by
If I can't have the cake
I'll settle for the crumbs But the day is gonna come
When I can't wait anymore
No I can't wait anymore Sister, I'm turning blue
I'm holding my breath for a dream gone dead
I'm kicking a Jones for you
'Cause the truth don't fit inside my head You ain't no baby mother
I'm not some kind of brother
But we are supposed to work it out I'm trying to stay back
I'm trying to stay cool
I'm trying not to shout But I'm beginning to have my doubts
If I can't take anymore
No I can't take anymore Sister, I'm turning blue
I'm holding my breath for a dream gone dead
I'm kicking a Jones for you
'Cause the truth don't fit inside my head Sister, I'm turning blue
I'm holding my breath for a dream gone dead
I'm kicking a Jones for you
'Cause the truth don't fit inside my head Sister, I'm turning blue
I'm holding my breath for a dream gone dead
I'm kicking a Jones for you
'Cause the truth don't fit inside my head
