

A Tall Tale

Out With the Old

Do you think of what you put me through?

When you said that it is me, not you?

I can't stand the thought

You're not sleeping with me

With meAnd what hurts the most

You don't call anymoreTwo Years

Ago

We put together all the pieces, of my broken heart of stone

And now

That we're

Older

All my memories sad and happy, locked away where no one knowsTime stops when I see your face

I just want you with me

With me

Looking at pictures of you

Get's harder everyday

I thought you'd stayAnd what hurts the most

You don't call anymoreTwo Years

Ago

We put together all the pieces, of my broken heart of stone

And now

That we're

Older

All my memories sad and happy, locked away where no one knowsIt was two years ago

We fell in love and mended my broken heart

And now that we're older

My memories have faded away
