You're the One

John Miles

Just when I thought my world was falling apart, you and I found love.
While it was such an empty space in my heart, I could die without love.
With everything you said to me seems like a fantasy that will soon be gone,
I just look in your eyes, you're the one.If any fools ever worked with a poem to deny this feeling.
I never thought there could be anything more, don't know how I'm breathing.
What's happening to you and I don't ask the reasons why, it could take too long,
I just look in your eyes, you're the one.Two hearts together,
Two hearts for ever,
Two hearts could never
Make it alone again.And every time I know I'm seeing you now, it's just like the first time.
Always scared I'm going to wake up somehow in the light, but I'll find
We've made another perfect night, we got the feeling right, we can't both be wrong,
I just look in your eyes, you're the one.
Two hearts together,
Two hearts for ever,
Two hearts could never
Make it alone again.Two hearts together,
Two hearts for ever,
Two hearts could never
Make it alone again.We've made another perfect night, we got the feeling right, we can't both be wrong,
I just look in your eyes, you're the one.And if its all a crazy dream, please leave me where I've been, let it carry on.
I just look in your eyes, you're the one.Two hearts together,
Two hearts for ever,
Two hearts could never
Make it alone again.
