

New Rock Revolution

The Reunion Show

Welcome to the revolution, the new rock revolution

I am right and you are wrong

Every dynasty will fall, a great big fall

Let's tear the wall brick by brick by brick

Let's drop a wrench in the system You taught us how to dream

You taught us how to love

You taught us how to cry

But that don't mean a thing? It's all been done before Welcome to the revolution, the new rock revolution

It's all been done before

Welcome to the revolution, the new rock revolution

It's the new rock revolution

It's the new rock revolution We are rebels with no yell

We are idols in our prime of nothingness

Let's do it for the right reasons, except the right ones

Let's do it for a cause You taught us how to dance

You taught us how to listen

You taught us how to rock

But that don't mean a thing? There's this girl, she lives in her made world

She says, it's all been done, she says, it's all been done

I just might, lay with her for a while

She says, it's all been done, she says, it's all been

She says, it's all been done for days and years to come
