

Into the Everblack

Enforsaken

One thousand hands
Pull you down into dark waters
Victimized
Time of life on earth expired
Coldly served the vengeance damning
Murder in the first degree
Fodder for the oaken box so lined with velvet tapestry
Descent imminent bladder and bowels into pants spent
The glow is waning in your eyes
What's coming next is no surprise
Death phlegm rattles
Terrible the choking swansong
Rapid decline
When old age brings burdens cumbersome
Cruelly dealt the sickness growing
Malignancies triumphantly
Destroyed you from the inside out
Begging for death insistently
Into the ever black
From where there's no coming back
Six feet below the earth rotting food for the fetid worms
Into the harrowed grave
Your mortal soul cannot be saved
Into the nether realm
Dead as slate and cold as hell
Rest in festering slime here burns the souls of a thousand generations
Join the club
Funerality
Headstones towering above
S'far as the eye can see
Condemned to hell so morbidly
My friend you'll never see
Lost forever in between
In revenance you've been deceived
What you have prayed for shall not be
Your hollow cries he has denied
Your weak religion dies
With thee a feeble cross insignia of fabled gods
You'll haunt a landscape draped in grey
Deceased and meant to be
To push the daisies up eternally your name is here in stone
Into the ever black
From where there's no coming back
Six feet below the earth, rotting food for the fetid worms

Into the harrowed grave
Your mortal soul cannot be saved
Into the nether realm
Dead as slate and cold as hell
