Birthday Cake

Emily Kinney

I wanna be a famous singer, would you be my band
Travel the world together, you can hold my hand
Crossing cracks from the airplane to the terminal gate
Hope we're meant for each other, hope that love is our fate
Life feels like a whirlwind, been watching paint dry
Can't steady the current no matter how hard I try
We could all use an anchor, you're not afraid of the sea
Let's both dive in together, put your hooks in meBoy, you really got me after birthday cake
Making out on my friend's new couch
So call me any night, any day of the week
I wanna learn what you're all about
And I know I'm far away but this is just the start
And if we make it past the first little part
We could fly around the world in the very same plane
We could share a life, share a name
Mmm mm mm mm mm mmmm mm mmmm
Mmm mm mm mm mm mmmm mm mmmmI wanna live in New York City when I'm old and gray
You say you're going to come visit me, see a Broadway play
Snow has just started falling
I hope you'll come around soon
My apartment is tiny
But I think there's enough room for youYeah, boy you really got me after birthday cake
Making love on my friend's spare bed
And I can't seem to shake walking Echo Park Lake
Or get your face out of my head
And I know I'm far away but this is just the start
And if we make it past the first little part
We could fly around the world in the very same plane
We could share a life, share a name
Mmm mm mm mm mm mmmm mm mmmm
Mmm mm mm mm mm mmmm mm mmmmAm I saying too much way too soon
Well my only confidant is this empty room
And my only response is the echo in my voice
When I'm falling in love it's like I have no choice
From my heart to my throat to my lips to the air
I don't wish for much, but I wish you were here
We need to check this out
Oh, check me in
I'm not into playing games but I do fight to winAnd boy, you really got me after birthday cake

Making love on my friend's spare bed
And I can't seem to shake walking Echo Park Lake
Or get your face out of my head
And I know I'm far away but this is just the start
And if we make it past the first little part
We could fly around the world in the very same plane
We could share a life, share a name
Mmm mm mm mm mm mmmm mm mmmm
Mmm mm mm mm mm mmmm mm mmmm
