It's Cold Outside Of Your Heart

Moody Blues

The harder I try seems the further I fall
The deeper my love seems to be
And I know that I never doubted at all
That someone was waiting for meThen out of the blue, it was over
And how did you think I would survive'Cause it's cold outside
Yes, it's cold outside of your heart
Yes, it's cold outside
Yes, it's cold outside of your heartI never thought it could happen to me
Like the one that gets you
That you just don't seeAnd now I don't want to be free
I thought it was always to be
That someone was waiting for meThe longer the shadows become in my life
The colder the breeze seems to be
The days roll on by, still I can't quite believe
That someone's not waiting for meThe flame of desire is still burning
The warmth of your body close to mine'Cause it's cold outside
Yes, it's cold outside of your heart
Yes, it's cold outside
Yes, it's cold outside of your heartIt's a big world to face all alone
And I'm begging you now
Just to come on home'Cause I, I don't want to be free
I thought it was always to be
That someone was waiting for meYou know that it's you that I need
You see, I refuse to believe
That someone's not waiting for me
