

Rachael

Taxiride

Rachael, I'm sorry that we never had the time
Making love could have last forever
I will never let you go from the corners of my mind
Never say never Rachael, I'm dreaming of a day when you were mine
We could have been so good together
Lonely sitting here with just my thoughts beside me now
Never say never When you find the time I'd like to nestle in your arms
Tangled in the deepest jungle, never been so kind
All will be forsaken Rachael, a lesson hard to learn is what I've found
This difference has grown between us
I was never one to show the way that my heart lies
Save me from misery Rachael, it's taken far too long to realize
You're everything that I could care for
This paradise inside will never leave my heart and mind
Together and forever With a lovers touch she will be sending me away
A promise of a new beginning each and every day
Even when we lie Could have been so good together now
A new beginning every day
Could have been so good together, Rachael
Could have been so good together now
But she's still sending me away
