Sew My Name

Josh Pyke

When I go, I think I'm gonna sew my name into all of your clothes my girl, since you have always worn me well.
And there are too many animals on this ship, some of you i think will have to sink but when it gets too much, you can only adjust.And oh I am always thinking about you and how you always wear me well.
You can't outgrow something sewn under your skin
so I will always wear you well.And oh I am always thinking about you
I'm always thinking about you.And Sunday evening always has a sense of something good about to end
I know, we hold our breaths for tomorrow. (Tomorrow.)
And when I go I think I'm gonna write my name into all the books you love so well, since you can read me good my girl yeah you can always read me well.
Oh I am always thinking about you
and how you always wear me well.
You can't outgrow something sewn under your skin
so I will always wear you well.And oh I am always thinking about you I'm always thinking about you.Try and rationalise a thing you've never seen before.
You can wear me well, you can wear me well.
I'd suit myself, but its one that ive never worn.
(You can wear me well, you can wear me well.)And if theres only one truth that i know, its that the stitches that we've made are the best that I've ever sewnAnd oh I am always thinking about you
and how you always wear me well.
You can't outgrow something sewn under your skin
so I will always wear you well.
And oh I am always thinking about you
I'm always thinking about you.
I'm always thinking about you.So when I go, I think I'm gonna sew my name into all of your clothes.
