

I Remember

Kenny Chesney

I'm sittin' here alone, thoughts of you run wild
I'm longin' for your touch, haunted by your smile
No use in tryin' to erase
No one could ever take your place
Well, I remember how it used to feel
Back when our love was strong and real
And I remember tears in your eyes and I looked at you and said goodbye
All I want right now is to forget every single thing that I regret
And drowned out these embers but I remember
It's yesterday again here inside my mind
And I can't find a way to leave your love behind
And I wanna wake up to the day
Your memory won't stand in my way
Well, I remember how it used to feel
Back when our love was strong and real
And I remember tears in your eyes, I looked at you and said goodbye
All I want right now is to forget every single thing that I regret
And drowned out these embers but I remember
Well, I wanna wake up to the day
Your memory won't stand in my way
Well, I remember how it used to feel
Back when our love was strong and real
And I remember tears in your eyes and I looked at you and said goodbye
All I want right now is to forget every single thing that I regret
And drowned out these embers but I remember, ohh
And I remember, ohh, oh, I remember you, baby
Oh, all of you, my baby

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>