Oceans Are Armlengths

Speedwell

One last look before you go it's hard to see
One last touch before you turn away
I know now i've seen it long before
How could i know that its so hard
Falling down beyond the water
Following the plane that drives away
I know i should of seen it long before
How could i know. Strong enough to breathe
I'm not strong enough to see you go
Waiting for a release
I can't slow you
Why now, why today,
Why can't you take the next one
Why now, why today
Why can't you take the next one
Why today
Why today
Why today.
