Afraid to Die

Jeff Scott Soto

Don't you ever, no don't forget
You know I mean it
The subtle fear we feel
The sudden rift inside
In the remnants of this broken mind
I lie here still afraid to dieOnce you promised and I will hold you to it
Do you remember how I savoured every word?
You stand beside me but I fear you cannot face me
Time's no longer on my sideTime runs out Without you by my side
There's naught to say
I cannot turn this tide
And now I know
We're just putting on a show here
It's no use now
I'm still afraid to dieI am telling you
Oh yes, I am telling you
There comes a time when we must face what we've become In silent mutiny you stonewall everything, I mean
What's left unsaid has hurt me
Oh, beyond compareSo when I say to you
I'll make you pay, it's true You'd better listen
these may be my final words
Make no mistake my friend
I'll hold you 'til the bitter end
Oh, face the music
Get a grip now, say farewell
