I Will Find A Way

Jason Gray

I've lost some joy, I've lost some time
Now it feels like I will lose my mind
Journey long and lost my way
And now it feels like I'm lost, is all I say
Searching here and over there
For what I've lost where is it, I don't knowBut I will find a way to lift up my hands
And I will find a way to worship You, Lord
Though my heart is low I'll find a way to give You praise
I will find a way to love You moreI've lost so much down through the years
It seems that all I find of late is a face so full of tears
I search each dark and empty place
The peace I used to know somehow I have misplaced
Searching here and over there
For the things I've lost I don't have them anymoreBut I will find a way to lift up my hands
And I will find a way to worship You, Lord
Though my heart is low I'll find a way to give You praise
I will find a way to love You moreOne thing I've not lost is the will to move ahead
And I kept a faith and trust in You Lord
And I find way down within myself
A love for You, Lord, that overflows
But I know that I can love You more
With every loss and through it allBut I will find a way to lift up my hands
And I will find a way to worship You, Lord
And though my life is broken I'll find a way to give You praise
I will find a way to love You moreI'll find a way, I know I will
I'll find a way
And though my life is broken I'll find a way to give You praise
I will find a way to love
I will find a way to love
Find a way to love You more, my whole
