

At Night

The Cure

Sunk deep in the night
I sink in the night
Standing alone
Underneath the sky I feel the chill of ice
On my face
I watch hours go by
The hours go by You sleep
Sleep in a safe bed
Curled and protected
Protected from sight Under a safe roof
Deep in your house
Unaware of the changes at night
At night I hear the darkness breathe
I sense the quiet and despair
Listen to the silence at night
Someone has to be there
Someone has to be there Someone must be there
