Cigarettes After Sex

Sun sets, we wander through a foreign town
Strangely, there's nobody else around
See you up there we try and show me your tights
On the swing set at the old playground And when you go away
I still see you
The sunlight on your face in the rearview Sun sets, I want to hear your voice
A love that nobody could destroy
Took photographs like proud it comes
Book covers that we both adored And when you go away, I still see you
The sunlight on your face in my rearview
This always happens to me this way
Recurring visions of such sweet days
And when you go away, I still see you
The sunlight on your face in my rearview
When you go away, I still see you
The sunlight on your face in my rearview
