Survive

David Bowie

Oh my, naked eyes I should have kept you I should have tried I should have been more wiser Kind of guy I miss youGive me wings Give me space Give me money for a change of face Those noisy rooms and passion pants I loved youWhere's the morning in my life? Where's the sense in stayin' right? Who said time is on my side? I've got ears and eyes and nothing in my lifeBut I survive your naked eyes I'll surviveYou alone across the floor You and me and nothing more You're the great mistake I never made I never lied to you I hated when you liedAnd I'll survive your naked eyes I'll survivePeople boys, all snowy white Razzle dazzle clubs every night Wished I had sent a Valentine I loved youI'll survive Naked eyes I'll surviveI'll survive My naked eyes I'll surviveI'll survive Naked eyes I'll surviveI'll survive I'll survive
