You Save Me

Jonathan Jeremiah

Standing outside in the pouring rain no one else to blame,
only me for company
right here in this place

another minute done
and i'm further from the one
the one i can't replace i'd drowned off through the streets with the dogs and the thiefs if they knew the way

the ones you chose
the ones you lose
who else is there?
to get me through?

sittin' in a chair in a....
millions miles away

you open up the door
leave a hand....
more than words can say opens up the blinds
to the corners of my minds feel it in my veins

with the dogs and the thieds

who is else is left to get me through?

but you
you save me

oh you, you save me,
you save me,
you saved me

standing outside in the morning light waiting for my ride
to take me away
from the millions streets
from this trouble life

one who's gone away

who else is there to get me though?

but you, you save me,
you save me,
you save me,

oh you,
you save me,
you save me,
oh, you save me.

I said, oh, you save me,
oh, save me,
you save me

I said, oh, you save me,
you save me,
