Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I ain't gonna call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymore

Even though I know what all his daddy done before

Hank weighs close to 200 pounds and he stands about 6 foot 4

And it's hard to call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymoreJust a little bit of Waylon sure goes a long way

But old Tex Ritter rode his horse and that was hell to pay

Willie said, "Don't nobody lay a hand on the bay

Jimmie Rodgers is the only reason that I'm standin' here today" And I ain't gonna call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymore

Hank weighs close to 200 pounds and he stands about 6 foot 4

And it's hard to call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymore

Dickey bettsHank sang it all right from the heart, took the whole world by surprise

Stood right next to Elvis in Memphis and looked him straight in the eyes

Ten years later young Bocephus busted through the door

And I just can't call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymoreI ain't gonna call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymore

Hank weighs close to 200 pounds and he stands about 6 foot 4

And it's hard to call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymoreFrom Alabama young Bocephus busted through the door

And I just can't call Hank Williams Junior Junior anymore
